- 4. Description [Abstrak] : The Asian Century refers to the dominant role that Asia is expected to play in the 21st century due to its progress economy and demographic trends. The concept of the Asian Century gained credence following the rapid economic growth of China and India since the 1980s. Developing Asia will need to invest $1.7 trillion per year in infrastructure until 2030 to maintain its growth momentum. The Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank (AIIB) is a multilateral development bank with a mission to improve social and economic outcomes in Asia. Australia is a country that is resistant to the initial formation of AIIB, but on December 2015 Australia decided to join the AIIB membership and become one of the prospective founding members of AIIB. The joining of Australia in AIIB is a dynamic in the political economy of the international economy that developed in the 21st century. The existence of the Asian Century as a magnet of the world economy becomes that global countries change the direction of policies that lead to Asia centric. This research is explained descriptively accompanied by quantitative data by analyzing through the perspective of a modern world system which indicates that the existence of AIIB indirectly creates dependency, class change, shifting hegemony to Asian centric towards third world countries and the center.
