ARTICLE INFORMATION	ABSTRACT
Vol. xx, No. xx Page: Published: KEYWORDS Hutan, Illegal Logging, Taman Nasional Kutai	A forest is an association of plants that occupy a living space or place and compete with each other to maintain life. Forest conservation has been stated in Law No. 41 of 1999 concerning forestry in article 50 paragraph 3. However, there is still a lot of damage in the forest, such as forest fires and illegal logging that occurred in the Kutai National Park forest in Teluk Singkama village, Sangatta Selatan sub-district, Kutai district, east. This research aims to find out what strategies are used to preserve the Sangkima natural tourism in Kutai National Park and what obstacles are encountered in implementing these strategies. This research was conducted at the Kutai National Park Center using a qualitative approach with descriptive analysis. The research results show that the Kutai National Park Office uses 2 strategies, namely ecosystem restoration which is carried out by means of rehabilitation and reforestation and area security which is carried out by patrolling and controlling forest fires. The obstacles faced by the Kutai National Park Office are the lack of human resources, lack of public awareness, and the lack of access to enter the Kutai National Park area.

INTRODUCTION
Hutan adalah kumpulan spesies tumbuhan yang menempati suatu ruang atau lokasi hidup dan bersaing untuk mempertahankan kehidupan. Fungsi hutan secara umum adalah sebagai paru-paru dunia, sebagai sumber daya ekonomi, sebagai habitat flora dan fauna, sebagai pengendali bencana alam, sebagai penyimpan air, dan sebagai pengurang polusi atau polusi udara.

Dalam Undang-Undang Republik Indonesia Nomor 41 Tahun 1999 tentang Kehutanan, "hutan lindung adalah hutan yang fungsi pokoknya melindungi sistem penyangga kehidupan untuk mengatur pengaliran air, mencegah banjir, dan mengendalikan erosi, mencegah intrusi air laut, dan memelihara kesuburan tanah. Hutan merupakan bagian dari alam yang mempunyai keanekaragaman dan kelebihan tersendiri.
