The results of this study indicate that there is an influence of peer pressure on homesickness in the students of the X Islamic boarding school in Samarinda with the calculated value obtained, namely F arithmetic > F table (104.359 > 3.933), r square = 0.515, and p value = 0.000 (p < 0.05). Based on the validity and reliability tests carried out on the measuring instrument for the homesickness variable, 19 items were declared valid with a reliability of 0.841, on the peer pressure variable, 29 items were declared valid with a reliability of 0.933. This shows that in this study is accepted, namely the influence of peer pressure on homesickness by contributing 51.5% to homesickness while the rest of the homesickness variables are influenced by other variables.
