Abstract
 Private employees have problems approaching retirement, where private employees prepare more thoroughly for retirement. Problems include psychological imbalance, disturbed in living after the upcoming retirement period with social support from other groups, it will be proven to overcome many problems, thereby reducing the pressure on psychological stress in facing retirement. This research aims to determine the relationship between social support and psychology well-being in private sector employees approaching retirement. The subjects of this research were 100 private employees approaching retirement. Subjects were selected using purposive sampling technique. The data method uses a self-report and psychology well-being scales. The collected data was analyzed using correlation test. The research of one of these two variables shows the there is a significant relationship between social support and psychology well-being with calculated value = 0.36 and p value <0.05 (p < 0.05), both of these have a positive direction and the strength of the relationship is in the low category.

ABSTRAK
 Pegawai swasta memiliki permasalahan menjelang masa pensiun yang menuntut pegawai lebih mempersiapkan lebih matang dalam mengatur pensiun. Permasalahan tersebut menimbulkan ketegangan psikologis, terganggunya keseimbangan kehidupan, dan berdampak pada kesejahteraan psikologis menjelang masa pensiun. Penelitian ini bertujuan untuk mengetahui hubungan antara dukungan sosial dengan kesejahteraan psikologis pada pegawai swasta menjelang pensiun. Subjek penelitian ini adalah 100 orang pegawai swasta menjelang pensiun. Subjek dipilih menggunakan teknik purposive sampling. Metode pengumpulan data yang menggunakan skala dukungan sosial dan kesejahteraan psikologis. Data yang terkumpul di analisis menggunakan uji korelasi. Penelitian dari kedua variabel tersebut menunjukkan terdapat hubungan signifikan antara dukungan sosial dan kesejahteraan psikologis dengan nilai t hitung = 0,36 dan nilai p < 0,05 (p < 0,05) yang menunjukkan arah dan kekuatan hubungan berada dalam kategori rendah.
